Imagine that you would like to work at home to be with your kids. You know the job requires you to call the bank's clients and collect money from their debts. You have decided to have an interview.

Why do you want to work in our company?

What will you do if you're on the phone with our client and there's an unexpected guest?

How will you convince our client to go to the bank so that we can arrange a settlement?

Hi I'm Yumiko Toboshi. I called in to ask regarding my salary. I was supposed to get it yesterday. However, when I check my bank account online, there was no money transfer made. This morning I went to the nearest ATM to check if there is money available, still there isn't any then I went straight to the bank and they've told me that there have been some problems with the account number under my name. They have tried to reach you yesterday but nobody took the call. The bank may call you or you may call the bank. Either way, I'd like to ask you to settle this today because I'll be on vacation tomorrow.
